

Good afternoon,

The coronavirus state of emergency has caused NYSAR to postpone in-person classroom educational programs scheduled between now and May 26. We apologize for any inconvenience, but we continue to offer valuable member benefits as we all attempt to make the best of the current situation.

One such effort is a NYSAR member-only benefit where we will offer GRI classes via live webinar at a greatly reduced fee of $25 per class. Each 7.5-hour GRI course will be offered in 2.5-hour segments over three consecutive business days. Please watch your email inbox for upcoming webinars as they are scheduled.

Class size will be limited to 20 registrants on a first-come, first-served basis. Additional classes may be added based on member needs.

NYSAR also offers a wide variety of online courses which carry New York CE credit, including three free courses. To view online education options, click here.

Classes scheduled between now and May 26 will be rescheduled based upon the status of the coronavirus state of emergency. NYSAR staff will contact those registered for these classes with the new dates. Registrants who are unable to attend on the new dates should call NYSAR at 800-239-4432 x 219 to discuss transferring to another class or to request a refund.

To further assist licensees, the Department of State will be emailing licensees who cannot complete their continuing education by their license renewal date with instructions on applying for a waiver of up to six months.

Though NYSAR staff members are working remotely, we plan to handle all inquiries within the next business day, however, we ask that you please be patient with us as we try to accommodate your requests.

Regards,
Priscilla Toth
NYSAR Director of Education
